Forgotten Books, United States, 2015. Paperback. Book Condition: New. 229 x 152 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book ***** Print on Demand *****.Excerpt from Poems of Knightly Adventure In this volume have been brought together four poems of knightly adventure. In Gareth and Lynette we have Tennyson's idealization of the knight of chivalry; in Sohrab and Rustum we have the Persian hero; Horatius is the type of the old Roman of the Republic; in The Vision of Sir Launfal Lowell has expressed a modern conception of knightliness. The poems are worth reading together. They are also worth comparing in the matter of poetic style. The particular point of style here discussed is Figurative Language. Other volumes in this series deal with Poetic Diction and Metre, but short notes on those topics are given here. These discussions of style may, in parts, perhaps be thought too difficult for pupils; but there is nothing that the teacher cannot understand and explain. It is generally better to make the pupil use his intelligence to the uttermost than to simplify a matter for easy comprehension, and in so doing drain all the real sense out of it.
